

SEEK U. S. ADVICE ON ALLIED POLICY TOWARD GERMANY

Overtures Will Be Made
Before Coming Conference at Spa.

VITAL ISSUES TAKEN

Gerddes Instructed To Discuss Russian Situation
With U. S.

London, May 11.—The advice of the United States will be sought by the allies on the future policies towards Russia and Germany before the forthcoming conference at Spa makes any definite decisions, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

All of the vital peace issues involving Germany will be threshed out when the allied statesmen meet the German envoys at Spa late this month.

It is probable that some of the allied decisions, notably the future attitude of the allies towards Russia, may be announced before the conference opens.

It is understood that Sir Auckland Geddes the British ambassador to the United States, has been instructed to discuss fully the Russian situation with the American state department.

France already has handed to the German government a full list of the allied claims under the treaty of Versailles and they will be pressed vigorously.

MILLERAND IN CONFERENCE.

Premier Millerand of France is scheduled to arrive at Folkestone Friday for a long conference with Premier Lloyd George. It is believed that the foundation stones of a final settlement on German affairs will be laid. On the following Monday the French and German delegates will meet in Paris to discuss the economic position of Germany and the allies plans for the reconstruction of the devastated regions.

After the Paris conference the delegates will adjourn to Spa where recommendations will be presented by both sides as a basis for deliberations on the various questions. Roughly grouped the questions are:

1. Dismament.
  2. Economic relief.
  3. Guarantees by Germany for the complete execution of the treaty.
  4. The allies' "final claims."
- The Polish victories over the bolsheviks probably will exert influence on the allies' decision regarding Russia.

FIRST VIOLATION OF SPEED LAWS IN XENIA MADE

John Poffenber, of Dayton, had the honor of being the first motorist caught by the local speed officer this season.

Clark Stethem who acted as traffic officer last year, and who served Saturday and Sunday in that capacity, hailed Poffenber into police headquarters Sunday, where he was given a warning by Chief Graham.

Under the new police regulations for the handling of the speed department, prepared by City Manager Riddle, motorists will be permitted a little more leeway than last year. A greater speed will be allowed both in the business and the residential district and first offenders will be warned the first time and fined on the second offense, unless they are running at a speed much greater than the law allows, when they will be fined for the first offense.

The speed laws to be observed this summer will be from 20 to 25 miles in the business section and from 25 to 30 miles in the residential district.

ACTIONS SUSPICIOUS, MAN ARRESTED BY DEPUTY SHERIFF

Alleged to be mentally deranged, a colored man, about 60 or 65 years of age, was taken into custody near Beaver church, by Deputy Sheriff George Birch.

A bunch of tickets on a social to be given at St. John's Baptist church colored, Springfield, was marked with the name J. W. Wilson, but it is believed that the man's true name is Walker, and that he is pastor of that church. He was arrested on complaint of residents of the section who notified the Sheriff's office, that the man was either intoxicated or insane. When arrested by the deputy sheriff he was tapping on an old gas pipe and announced that he was a plumber. He was neatly dressed in a clerical's coat and black suit.

When notified by the local authorities, Sheriff Welch of Clark county, believed the man was Robert G. Walker, colored contractor, of Yellow Springs street, who disappeared several days ago mysteriously and whom the authorities have been searching for. Sheriff Welch came to Xenia Monday night and took the man arrested here back to Springfield with him, but he said it was not the man for whom they were searching.

WINNERS IN ARMY ESSAY AWARDED PRIZES IN WASHINGTON

The national winners of the Army Essay contest were awarded their prizes for essays on the advantages offered by an enlistment in the United States military service at a ceremony in the stadium of the Central High School, Washington, D. C.

Prominent army officers were present at the presentation exercises, which were preceded by a parade of army units. In the photograph is shown, left to right: General Peyton C. Marsh, Chief of Staff; Miss Marjorie Sheetz, of Chillicothe, Mo.,

winner of second prize; Donald L. Campbell, of Clinton, Iowa, awarded first prize; Secretary of War Newton Baker; Miss Betty Eason, of Olive Branch, Mass., who was awarded third prize, and General P. C. Harris, U. S. A.

TIME EXTENDED TO JULY 15 FOR NATIONAL DRIVE

Inter-Church World Movement Fails To Raise
Quota.

Cleveland, O., May 11.—With only about half of the desired quota reported, the national general committee and executive committee of the inter-world church movement late yesterday definitely agreed to extend the drive until July 15. The campaign was originally scheduled to close May 3.

Members of the general committee declared that "the churches are not presenting a united front" and "they are getting in each others way."

While much regret was expressed in the fact that they were unable to raise the $330,000,000 quota in the allotted time, the belief was general that with a greater endeavor the full amount can be secured before July 15.

A report containing 230,000 words, on what members of the survey commission declare was "the absolute truth about the steel strike" was submitted to the general committee by the investigation commission.

"All I can say is that it is the fairest report I have ever signed," Bishop McConnell, of New York who has been a member of many similar commissions said.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a member of the executive committee, would not comment on the report or the committee's attitude toward it.

James M. Speers, New York, executive chairman, denied that "enormous" salaries were being paid leaders in the movement. "We are paying one man $6,000 but many of the leaders are not receiving anything," he said. He stated that $9,000,000 has been spent thus far for carrying on the campaign, including organization expenses, advertising, and incidentals.

SUPREME COURT OF OHIO OVERRULES MONTGOMERY COURT

Columbus, O., May 11.—The state supreme court today overruled the appeal of Frank M. Callahan from the judgment given by the Montgomery county appellate court favoring Adam Schantz, trustee, et al. (For details see E. H. and W. B. Turner, James and Coolidge, Roy Fitzgerald or McMahon and McMahon Dayton.)

The supreme court also overruled the appeal of Wm. E. Good from the Montgomery county appellate courts judgment favorable to Meyer and Mendoza.

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS, AUTHOR AND EDITOR, DIES AT AGE OF 83

New York, May 11.—William Dean Howells, famous author and editor, died early today in his apartment in the hotel St. Hubert. He was 83 years of age. Mr. Howells recently returned from Savannah, Ga. where he spent the winter. His death was hastened by weakness following an attack of influenza.

Mr. Howells was born at Martins Ferry, and educated himself while working in newspaper offices. His father was the owner of a country newspaper office and the son began to set type when he was still so small that he had to stand on a box to reach the case. Mr. Howells began to

ENGLISH NAVAL WARFARE SCORED BY PRESIDENT

—DECLARES DANIELS

Secretary of Navy Brings Facts To Light In Testimony.

Washington, May 11.—President Wilson was not satisfied with the manner in which Great Britain was conducting naval warfare when the United States entered the world war. This fact was brought out by Secretary of the Navy Daniels today before the senate committee investigating the charges made by Rear Admiral Sims against the conduct of the war by the navy department.

For the first time the speech of the president to the officers of the Atlantic fleet at Yorktown, Va., in the summer of 1917, was made public when Secretary Daniels read it to the committee today.

The president complained that the British were adhering to traditions in conducting naval operations.

Speaking of the campaign against the submarines, the president declared, "we are hunting hornets all over the farm and letting the nest alone. None of us know how to go to the nest and smash it, and yet I despair of hunting hornets all over the sea when I know where the nest is and I know the nest is breeding hornets as fast as I can find them."

Something Unusual
Therefore, I should like to see something unusual happen, something that never was done before. There is no other way to win. I am willing for my part, and I know you are willing for I know the stuff you are made of—I am willing to sacrifice half the navy, Great Britain and we together have to crush the nest, because if we crush it the war is won," the president's speech continued.

Daniels outlined the plans of the navy department made prior to the outbreak of the war. He referred to the announced policy of the president in February, 1916, when he declared the United States navy "ought in my judgement to be incomparably the most adequate navy in the world."

Daniels quoted from the report of the general board to the effect "that this is the first time any administration has decided to present to the congress a continuing ship building program." The program was estimated to cost $500,000,000 at that time. Increased costs have raised that amount to $800,000,000 Daniels declared.

"All this shows the navy department was alive to its responsibility before our entrance into the war," Daniels declared.

write at an early age and his contributions to newspapers soon attracted attention. He ranked in later years as one of the foremost portrayers of American life.

On December 24, 1862, Mr. Howells was married in Paris to Elinor G. Mead of Brattleboro, Vt. He was formerly editor of the Atlantic Monthly and Cosmopolitan and at the time of his death conducted "the educators easy chair" in Harper's.

Degrees were conferred upon Mr. Howells by Yale, Harvard, Adelbert college and Oxford. He was president of the American Academy of Arts and letters.

SOCIALISTS TO REQUEST DEBBS' PARDON, BELIEF

Conservative Element Of Party Rules Convention.

New York, May 11.—The conservative element of the Socialist party appeared to be "in the saddle" today when the national convention was resumed at the Finnish workers social hall.

There is a definite split in the convention between the conservatives or "elder statesmen" as they are contemptuously termed, and the extremist element composed principally of younger members of the "fire eating" variety.

The split came on the question of adopting the party platform and a declaration of principles and it will go to a decision on the same issue. Both documents were written by the conservative crowd, headed by Morris Hillquit and are masterpieces of scholarly presentation of socialism. Both documents stress the fact that violence has no part in socialism. They are what could be called "mild and progressive" from a socialistic standpoint.

Hillquit and his friends had two definite aims in view in writing a straight forward, conservative exposition of socialistic editorials. There was the attraction of disgruntled members of the old parties and the second and more important, was the liberation of Eugene Debs from Atlanta prison.

They believe if they can get these documents before President Wilson and say:

"Here is what we stand for; it is not violence; we want you to pardon our leader," he will do it.

SCHOOL PUPILS APPEAR IN OVERALLS

The overall club idea was introduced at Central High School Tuesday morning when about six students appeared in classes garbed in denim.

The plan of wearing overalls was agitated Monday and was rather impromptu, but it is expected that the overall club will spread in membership. The plan was started in Xenia at McKinley Junior High school, where students have been wearing overalls for some time.

TRAIN HITS AUTO ON DETROIT STREET

A touring car belonging to William Bootes of the Hook Road was slightly damaged when it was struck by a train on the Springfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad as it was parked on the street near the residence of Dr. A. C. Messenger Saturday night.

The engine side swiped the car, damaging a fender and wheel, backing it into a tree, which damaged the rear curtain. A fifth wheel was carried on the car, and the damaged wheel was replaced by it, Mr. and Mrs. Bootes making the trip home in the machine.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONARY FORCES IN COMPLETE CONTROL; CARRANZA IS REPORTED STILL AT LARGE

Reports Of Carranza
Being Killed Are Now
Discredited.

STATEMENTS CONFLICT

Official Knowledge Of His Whereabouts Still Matter of Doubt.

El Paso, May 11.—The fate of President Carranza was in doubt this afternoon.

Rebel headquarters here claim they have received reports confirming earlier news stating he had been captured at Apizaco, in Puebla, but another report from Vera Cruz, states that the fallen Mexico executive managed to break through the rebel lines there and is making a last desperate stand at a point twenty miles from Vera Cruz, with revolutionary forces under Generals Trevino and Benjamin Hill, preparing to attack the 4,000 loyal troops who are defending him.

Other early reports to the rebel agents here today declare that General Candido Aguilar, a son in law of Carranza, and General Manuel Dieguez, Carranza's chief military commander, have been slain in battle and that General Francisco Murguia, who ordered the massacre of political prisoners at Santiago prison, and Juan Barragan, chief of Carranza's "hussar" bodyguards, have been executed on the order of the rebel commander at Mexico City.

An earlier report that Carranza was slain during his flight from Mexico City is not believed here.

Capture Occurs Friday

The rebel advices of Carranza's capture state that it occurred at Apizaco Friday while he was fleeing to Vera Cruz together with Luis Cabrera, minister of the treasury; Manuel Borlanga, minister of the interior; Ignacio Bonillas, former ambassador to the United States, and several other officials "of the federal government. All were reported captured with him. The party, it was reported, was ordered back to Mexico City by General Obregon.

It is stated by officials of the rebel government that Adolfo DelaHuerta, governor of Sonora, where the revolution started, will be named provisional president in a few days. He has ordered that all gambling shall be stopped throughout territory controlled by the rebels.

A bulletin early today reports the surrender of Mazatlan to General Flores. Whether the battle was fought there is not stated. This brings virtually all of Mexico, with the exception of three states which have not recognized the rebel government, under the control of the new regime.

Villa has been given command of a force of rebel troops for the purpose of "cleaning up" several isolated bands which are hostile to the rebel government, it was announced at rebel headquarters here. Troops are being sent from Juarez to join his commands at Aguas Calientes and Zacatecas. He was seen by Americans at Ortiz Monday in conference with rebel generals.

Trains south of Juarez on the Mexican Central railroad are now running at night and without military guard, for the first time in years.

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES NEW APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, O., May 11.—Governor Cox today announced the appointment of E. C. Shaw, Akron; H. M. Rudd, Barberton, and John Gauthier, Akron, and John M. Swain, R. F. D. Barberton, as members of the board of trustees empowered to construct and operate the Summit county general hospital which was authorized by a bond issue approved at the special election held on April 27 last.

HAMILTON COUNTY DELEGATES URGE RE-SELECTION OF HYNICKA, REPORT

Columbus, O., May 11.—Arrangements for the Republican state convention to be held here June 29-30, will be made by J. N. Linton, Columbus, chairman; J. C. Hughes, Piqua; George B. Harris, Cleveland; B. B. Buckley, Dayton, and C. D. Simeral, Steubenville. The convention will adopt a platform and select the Republican presidential electors from Ohio.

The committee on arrangements was selected at a joint meeting here of the Republican state advisory and central committee. The committee are all members of these committees.

A resolution adopted by the Hamilton county central and executive committees and endorsed by Hamilton county delegates to the Republican national convention, urging the reelection of Rud K. Hynicka, Cincinnati, as Republican national committeeman from Ohio, was presented to the state advisory and central committees by Peter W. Durr and J. Campbell, state central committee-

FATE OF MEXICAN LEADER IN DOUBT

PRESIDENT CARRANZA

Conflicting reports from Mexico, concerning the capture of Carranza, leave the fate of the former president shrouded in uncertainty.

CHILD WELFARE CHIEF PLANK OF WOMEN'S PARTY

"Woman's Platform" To
Presented Both Major
Parties.

New York, May 11.—With proposals of child welfare legislation as the chief plank, the "Woman's platform" which will be presented to the platform committees of the Republican and Democratic parties by the National League of Women Voters was made public today.

The "child welfare" plank urges adequate appropriations for the children's bureau and the prohibition of child labor throughout the United States. Protection of infant life through a federal program for maternity and infancy care also is advocated.

Establishment of a federal department of education is advocated in a plank dealing with education and federal aid is advocated for the removal of illiteracy. Increased salaries for teachers are favored.

Creation of a woman's bureau in the department of labor, appointment of women in the mediation and conciliation service of the department of labor and on any industrial commission and may be created hereafter, establishment of a joint federal and state department service with women's departments to be directed by women and a reclassification of the federal civil service to eliminate discrimination on the ground of sex are measures suggested to promote the welfare of women in industry.

The final plank in the platform constitutes an appeal for independent citizenship for married women and declares that American born women should not forfeit citizenship by marriage with aliens and that alien women should not gain citizenship by marriage with Americans.

Establishment of a Provisional Government Is Expected.

DELA HUERTA PREST.

Revolutionary Forces
Maintain Success of Revolution.

Washington, May 11.—Establishment of a provisional government by the Mexican rebels is expected within a few days, according to the agency of the revolution here.

Governor Dela Huerta, of Sonora is looked upon here as the most likely candidate for the office of provisional president.

Recognition of the United States will not be sought by the defacto government, according to the revolutionary agency, for it is believed that this will come in the natural course of events.

Conflicting reports were received here as to the exact whereabouts of President Carranza, but officials of the revolutionary agency gave little credence to the report that Carranza had escaped and was again on his way to Vera Cruz. All reports received here indicate that the Mexican leader is in the hands of rebels and will be taken back to Mexico City, probably to be allowed to leave the country after it has been ascertained that the treasury has not been depleted.

The revolutionary agency here today maintained that the success of the revolution is assured. Incomplete reports showed that only the states of Yucatan, Campeche and Chiapas are still to declare in favor of the revolution.

The administration is proceeding with the utmost caution and with the dispatch of the Oklahoma to Key West today and the presence of several destroyers along both coasts of Mexico it is believed here that the safety of Americans in Mexico is assured. All official reports which have been received thus far indicate that the revolutionists are maintaining order and that there have been no untoward events which would indicate that American lives were jeopardized.

The fall of Mazatlan on the west coast of Mexico to General Flores has been reported here but the reports do not speak of any battle in connection with the capitulation of the city. The absence of news of a battle at Mazatlan was encouraging to officials here for it had been feared that with a concentration of Americans in and around Mazatlan, an outbreak might occur there.

ALLIED ACTION IS THREATENED ACCOUNT OF FRENCH MISSIVE

London, May 11.—The note which France is sending to Germany demanding immediate steps for the trial of German war offenders in the newly created supreme court at Leipzig threatens allied action if the Germans delay the trials any further according to reports in reliable circles today. With the demand is coupled an inquiry as to what action Germany already has taken towards the trials of guilty officers.

"BLUEBEARD" UNDER LIFE SENTENCE HAS ANOTHER CRIME ON LIST

Los Angeles, Cal., May 11.—"Bluebeard" Harvey, arch murderer of the age, who is under life sentence for the murder of nine "wives" still has other victims to disclose.

Such was the opinion of investigators of the district attorney's office today when they were astounded by news that Harvey had admitted a ninth murder to Deputy Sheriff Robert L. Couts, who has been constantly with "Bluebeard" since his arrest a month ago.

STUDENTS SELECT GRADUATING SUITS

Dark suits with stiff collars and black bow ties will be worn by the boys of the graduating class of Central High School at the Commencement exercises to be held June 15th.

This costume was decided by a vote cast by the members of the class Monday noon. Dark coats with white trousers was also suggested but the sentiment was in favor of the other uniform.

It was also decided that there would be no uniformity of dress at the Junior-Senior Reception or the Baccalaureate sermon.

The girls will wear their Junior Reception gowns at the Baccalaureate sermon but have not decided as to a costume for Commencement.

SEEK U. S. ADVICE
ON ALLIED POLICY
TOWARD GERMANY

Overtures Will Be Made
Before Coming Conference at Spa.

VITAL ISSUES TAKEN

Gerddes Instructed To Discuss Russian Situation
With U. S.

London, May 11.—The advice of the United States will be sought by the allies on the future policies towards Russia and Germany before the forthcoming conference at Spa makes any definite decisions, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

All of the vital peace issues involving Germany will be threshed out when the allied statesmen meet the German envoys at Spa late this month.

It is probable that some of the allied decisions, notably the future attitude of the allies towards Russia, may be announced before the conference opens.

It is understood that Sir Auckland Geddes the British ambassador to the United States, has been instructed to discuss fully the Russian situation with the American state department.

France already has handed to the German government a full list of the allied claims under the treaty of Versailles and they will be pressed vigorously.

MILLERAND IN CONFERENCE.

Premier Millerand of France is scheduled to arrive at Folkestone Friday for a long conference with Premier Lloyd George. It is believed that the foundation stones of a final settlement on German affairs will be laid. On the following Monday the French and German delegates will meet in Paris to discuss the economic position of Germany and the allies plan for the reconstruction of the devastated regions.

After the Paris conference, the delegates will adjourn to Spa where recommendations will be presented by both sides as a basis for deliberations on the various questions. Roughly grouped the questions are:

1. Disarmament.
  2. Economic relief.
  3. Guarantees by Germany for the complete execution of the treaty.
  4. The allies' "final claims."
- The Polish victories over the bolsheviks probably will exert influence on the allies' decision regarding Russia.

The speed laws to be observed this summer will be from 20 to 25 miles in the business section and from 25 to 30 miles in the residential district.

ACTIONS SUSPICIOUS,
MAN ARRESTED BY DEPUTY SHERIFF

Alleged to be mentally deranged, a colored man, about 60 or 65 years of age, was taken into custody near Beaver church, by Deputy Sheriff George Birch.

A bunch of tickets on a social to be given at St. John's Baptist church colored, Springfield, was marked with the name J. W. Wilson, but it is believed that the man's true name is Walker, and that he is pastor of that church. He was arrested on complaint of residents of the section who notified the Sheriff's office, that the man was either intoxicated or insane. When arrested by the deputy sheriff he was tapping on an old gas pipe and announced that he was a plumber. He was neatly dressed in a clean, light-colored suit.

When notified by the local authorities, Sheriff Welch of Clark county, believed the man was Robert G. Walker, colored contractor, of Yellow Springs street, who disappeared several days ago mysteriously and whom the authorities have been searching for. Sheriff Welch came to Xenia Monday night and took the man arrested here back to Springfield with him, but he said it was not the man for whom they were searching.

TO JULY 15 FOR NATIONAL DRIVE

Inter-Church World Movement Fails To Raise
Quota.

Cleveland, O., May 11.—With only about half of the desired quota reported, the national general committee and executive committee of the inter-world church movement late yesterday definitely agreed to extend the drive until July 15. The campaign was originally scheduled to close May 3.

Members of the general committee declared that "the churches are not presenting a united front" and "they are getting in each others way."

While much regret was expressed in the fact that they were unable to raise the $330,000,000 quota in the allotted time, the belief was general that with a greater endeavor the full amount can be secured before July 15.

A report containing 230,000 words, on what members of the survey commission declare was "the absolute truth about the steel strike," was submitted to the general committee by the investigation commission.

"All I can say is that it is the fairest report I have ever signed," Bishop McConnell, of New York, who has been a member of many similar commissions said.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a member of the executive committee, would not comment on the report or the committee's attitude toward it.

James M. Speers, New York, executive chairman, denied that "enormous" salaries were being paid leaders in the movement. "We are paying one man $6,000 but many of the leaders are not receiving anything," he said. He stated that $9,000,000 has been spent thus far for carrying on the campaign, including organization expenses, advertising, and incidentals.

Villa has been given command of a force of rebel troops for the purpose of "cleaning up" several isolated bands which are hostile to the rebel government, it was announced at rebel headquarters here. Troops are being sent from Juarez to join his commands at Aguas Calientes and Zacatecas. He was seen by Americans at Ortiz Monday in conference with rebel generals.

Trains south of Juarez on the Mexican Central railroad are now running at night and without military guard, for the first time in years.

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES
NEW APPOINTMENTS

Columbus, O., May 11.—Governor Cox today announced the appointment of E. C. Shaw, Akron; H. M. Rudd, Barberton, and John Gauthier, Akron, and John M. Swain, R. F. D. Barberton, as members of the board of trustees empowered to construct and operate the Summit county general hospital which was authorized by a bond issue approved at the special election held on April 27 last.

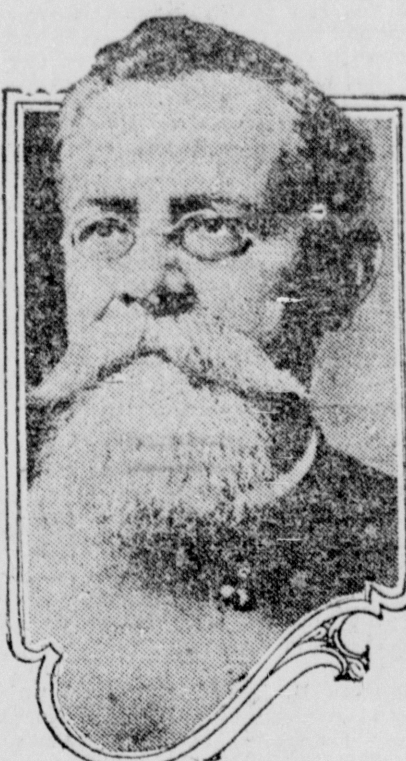

HAMILTON COUNTY DELEGATES URGE
RE-SELECTION OF HYNICKA, REPORT

Columbus, O., May 11.—Arrangements for the Republican state convention to be held here June 29-30, will be made by J. N. Linton, Columbus, chairman; J. C. Hughes, Piqua; George B. Harris, Cleveland; B. B. Buckley, Dayton, and C. D. Simeral, Steubenville. The convention will adopt a platform and select the Republican presidential electors from Ohio.

The committee on arrangements was selected at a joint meeting here of the Republican state advisory and central committee. The committee are all members of these committees.

A resolution adopted by the Hamilton county central and executive committees and endorsed by Hamilton county delegates to the Republican national convention, urging the reselection of Rud K. Hynicka, Cincinnati, as Republican national committeeman from Ohio, was presented to the state advisory and central committees by Peter W. Durr and J. Campbell, state central committee-

FATE OF MEXICAN
LEADER IN DOUBT

PRESIDENT CARRANZA

Conflicting reports from Mexico, concerning the capture of Carranza, leave the fate of the former president shrouded in uncertainty.

CHILD WELFARE
CHIEF PLANK OF WOMEN'S PARTY

"Woman's Platform" To
Presented Both Major
Parties.

New York, May 11.—With proposals of child welfare legislation as the chief plank, the "Woman's platform" which will be presented to the platform committees of the Republican and Democratic parties by the National League of Women Voters was made public today.

The "child welfare" plank urges adequate appropriations for the children's bureau and the prohibition of child labor throughout the United States. Protection of infant life through a federal program for maternity and infancy care also is advocated.

Establishment of a federal department of education is advocated in a plank dealing with education and federal aid is advocated for the removal of illiteracy. Increased salaries for teachers are favored.

Creation of a woman's bureau in the department of labor, appointment of women in the mediation and conciliation service of the department of labor and on any industrial commission and may be created hereafter, establishment of a joint federal and state department service with women's departments to be directed by women and a reclassification of the federal civil service to eliminate discrimination on the ground of sex are measures suggested to promote the welfare of women in industry.

The final plank in the platform constitutes an appeal for independent citizenship for married women and declares that American born women should not forfeit citizenship by marriage with aliens and that alien women should not gain citizenship by marriage with Americans.

Establishment of a Provisional Government Is Expected.

DELA HUERTA PREST.

Revolutionary Forces
Maintain Success of Revolution.

Washington, May 11.—Establishment of a provisional government by the Mexican rebels is expected within a few days, according to the agency of the revolution here.

Governor Dela Huerta, of Sonora is looked upon here as the most likely candidate for the office of provisional president.

Recognition of the United States will not be sought by the defacto government, according to the revolutionary agency, for it is believed that this will come in the natural course of events.

Conflicting reports were received here as to the exact whereabouts of President Carranza, but officials of the revolutionary agency gave little credence to the report that Carranza had escaped and was again on his way to Vera Cruz. All reports received here indicate that the Mexican leader is in the hands of rebels and will be taken back to Mexico City, probably to be allowed to leave the country after it has been ascertained that the treasury has not been depleted.

The revolutionary agency here today maintained that the success of the revolution is assured. Incomplete reports showed that only the states of Yucatan, Campeche and Chiapas are still to declare in favor of the revolution.

The administration is proceeding with the utmost caution and with the dispatch of the Oklahoma to Key West today and the presence of several destroyers along both coasts of Mexico it is believed here that the safety of Americans in Mexico is assured. All official reports which have been received thus far indicate that the revolutionists are maintaining order and that there have been no untoward events which would indicate that American lives were jeopardized.

The fall of Mazatlan on the west coast of Mexico to General Flores has been reported here but the reports do not speak of any battle in connection with the capitulation of the city. The absence of news of a battle at Mazatlan was encouraging to officials here for it had been feared that with a concentration of Americans in and around Mazatlan, an outbreak might occur there.

ALLIED ACTION IS THREATENED ACCOUNT OF FRENCH MISSIVE

London, May 11.—The note which France is sending to Germany demanding immediate steps for the trial of German war offenders in the newly created supreme court at Leipzig threatens allied action if the Germans delay the trials any further according to reports in reliable circles today. With the demand is coupled an inquiry as to what action Germany already has taken towards the trials of guilty officers.

"BLUEBEARD" UNDER LIFE SENTENCE HAS
ANOTHER CRIME ON LIST

Los Angeles, Cal., May 11.—"Bluebeard" Harvey, arch murderer of the age, who is under life sentence for the murder of nine "wives" still has other victims to disclose.

Such was the opinion of investigators of the district attorney's office today when they were astounded by news that Harvey had admitted a ninth murder to Deputy Sheriff Robert L. Coutts, who has been constantly with "Bluebeard" since his arrest a month ago.

STUDENTS SELECT GRADUATING SUITS

Dark suits with stiff collars and black bow ties will be worn by the boys of the graduating class of Central High School at the Commencement exercises to be held June 15th. This costume was decided by a vote cast by the members of the class Monday noon. Dark coats with white trousers were also suggested but the sentiment was in favor of the other uniform.

It was also decided that there would be no uniformity of dress at the Junior-Senior Reception or the Baccalaureate sermon. The girls will wear their Junior Reception gowns at the Baccalaureate sermon but have not decided as to a costume for Commencement.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl seventeen years of age and am in love with a boy with whom I have had a quarrel and broke up about went for about five months last year, the first of September. I have been going with other boys, but do not enjoy myself, as I keep thinking of this certain boy all the time. I see him quite often, but he just speaks as he thinks I am still angry. What can I do to get him back? Life is nothing without him.

CHARLOTTE H.

When the young man wants to come back he will say so. It is not your place to "get him back."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with one girl for some time. A few nights ago I went to see her and there was another young man there. She wouldn't talk to me, she has loved me until the other night. I think I have lost her love by some means. I missed a date or two, but I thought she ought to be satisfied with my coming as often as I had been.

Do you think I should go back any more or talk to some other girl until she gets in a good humor?

YOURS TRULY.

Unless you and the girl are engaged she has a right to let other young men as well as you call upon her. Forget this incident and ask her to call again. If she refuses to let you come, you may be sure she no longer loves you. Then find another girl.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a freshman in high school and am in love with a senior of the same school who is about four years my senior. One evening during my absence another girl had his company. Am I justified in seriously objecting to her having company with him?

JEALOUS.

Since you are not engaged you are not justified in objecting.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years old, engaged to a young man two years my senior. He has always treated me splendidly and has been very considerate of my wishes. We expect to be married soon. There is only one thing which mars my happiness. We are both members of Protestant churches, but of different denominations. Neither of us feel at home to worship at the other's church. He has taken me to my church each time I have wanted to go and he has been respectful about it, telling me I had a right to worship wherever I desired. Somehow I cannot feel exactly satisfied, feeling this difference between us. What would you advise?

THANK YOU.

You are too exacting. Go to church and let the young man continue to go to his. This is done in many homes nowadays with satisfactory results. It would be wrong for you to urge him to give up his belief to accept yours. Do not talk about religion and let matters adjust themselves.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a girl seven years, but she does not seem to love me. How can I make her love me?

YOURS.

If she does not love you after seven years of courtship, your case looks hopeless. Perhaps she does love you, but you have not said anything to bring out the fact. Ask her to marry you and if she says she does not love you, find another girl.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls aged seventeen and nineteen. We are tanned and spotted. Different parties have advised us to use peroxide. Would you advise it?

FOUR EYES.

The use of peroxide does bleach the skin. Lemon juice with water is also good. Very often the skin becomes dry. In which case cold cream should also be used.

TWO KILLED, TEN WOUNDED IN VIENNA

London, May 11.—Two persons were killed and ten wounded in a great demonstration at Vienna against the monarchical activities of the reactionaries, said a news agency dispatch from that city today. The demonstrations occurred when socialists clashed with the military guards. Two hundred thousand persons took part in the demonstrations.

TAKE MILITARY PRECAUTIONS

Berlin, May 11.—Strong military precautions were taken by the government to prevent fatalities during the proposed communist demonstration today against an attack on Russia. The communist demonstration was regarded as an election maneuver.

TRACTION CAR HITS AUTO; TWO DEAD IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, O., May 11.—Charles Makemson, 35, Indianapolis, was instantly killed, George Hawke 19, R. R. No. 5 Springfield died Monday night at the city hospital, and five others were injured when an Ohio Electric car crashed into their automobile, at the Bird road crossing Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock.

William Makemson, brother of Charles, received a number of fractures about the head and is in a serious condition. Earl Ault Springfield, was cut and bruised and Thomas John and Russel Hawke, were bruised and sprained. The men were on their way to Beaver creek on a fishing trip when the accident happened. They declared they did not see the traction car approaching.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AGAIN REJECTED

Springfield, O., May 11.—After agreeing to pass the daylight saving ordinance, and after having an ordinance of that sort drawn up, members of the city commission in session here last night, changed their minds, and again unanimously voted against the time saving plan.

A week ago, Mayor Westcott advocated the plan but when it was brought up Monday night, he confessed that he was "up in the air on the matter." A poll of employers and employees in factories showed a majority favoring the hour more daylight plan and the Chamber of Commerce endorsed it in a communication to the commission. When the plan was voted down spectators in the commission chamber cheered.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS VALIDITY OF STATE ACT

Columbus, O., May 11.—The constitutionality of the state industrial commission act and the state law authorizing boards of education to issue bonds in excess of the Smith one percent law in cases where the state bureau of workshops and factories condemn school buildings and the voters authorize the issuance of bonds at a special election were upheld by the state supreme court today.

The supreme court affirmed the action of the Logan county appellate court in refusing the application of Samuel A. Kinsinger for an injunction seeking to prevent the board of education of Degraff village school district from issuing $120,000 in bonds for the purpose of erecting a new school building.

RAYNOSA GARRISON REVOLTS. McAllen, Tex., May 11.—The Caranza garrison at Reynosa, state of Tamaulipas, and across the border from Hidalgo, Tex., has revolted and joined the revolutionists.

MISS KATE VAN EATON WEDS NEWSPAPER MAN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Van Eaton of the Van Eaton road, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kate Van Eaton, to Mr. John Edelman, a newspaper man and social worker, which took place in New York City, April 26. Mr. and Mrs. Edelman will assist in conducting the Forrer Modern school at Stelton, N. J., a settlement school where art, weaving and dyeing are taught in addition to the regular branches. They plan to go to Russia to work when conditions become more settled there.

The marriage took place a few days after the bride's return from England, where she went with a Y. W. C. A. unit in the expectation of going to Russia. Owing to unsettled conditions in that country, the unit did not get to its destination, but Miss Van Eaton remained in the British Isles several months. While her parents knew of her engagement to Mr. Edelman, they did not expect the marriage to occur now, and were surprised upon receiving the announcement from their daughter in a letter which came a day or so ago.

Girls! Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic, but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce or stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful combination called Howard's Buttermilk Cream will work a marvelous transformation. Manufactured at Buffalo, N. Y., by Howard Bros. Chemical Co., Sayre & Hemphill

POLICE DEPARTMENT ADDS PATROLMAN FIREMAN ON JOB

Naiman Caplinger, was appointed regular patrolman on the Police Department following the civil service examination conducted for patrolman Monday.

Caplinger was the only candidate for the position and he successfully passed the examination given. He will start his duties as patrolman, Saturday May 15, relieving Patrolman Ed. Wilkins, extra policeman, who has been serving regularly since the vacancy caused by the promotion of M. E. Graham to chief, and who was not an applicant for the regular position.

The new patrolman, has been employed for some time as farmer and gardner at the O. S. & S. O. Home and is 42 years of age. Leroy Dotson and is 42 years of age. Leroy Dotson, newly appointed combination fireman and traffic officer, also passed the civil service examination given Monday night.

Dotson assumed his duties as fireman Monday and will start in as motorcycle speed cop, as soon as he can secure his motorcycle. Under the two platoon fire department system, Dotson will work 24 hours as fireman, with 24 hours off duty and on his off time he will act as traffic officer. He will stay at the fire engine house and be ready for call for police or fire at any time. His motorcycle will be equipped with hand chemicals.

YOUR COMPLEXION CAN BE MADE WHITE, SOFT AND YOUTHFUL

By the Use of the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment.

Every woman wishes to appear beautiful. The savage maiden tattoos her skin, fixes rings in her nose and uses other crude ornaments to make herself more attractive. An example of present-day beauty among civilized women is a soft velvety skin and a radiant complexion.

To improve your complexion, you should not use anything that hides your faded pimply, blotchy skin. Such applications last only a few hours and are injurious to the delicate skin tissue in many cases.

You can make your complexion beautiful by removing the faded, dark, sallow, blotchy skin with the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment, which consists of a creamy ointment and soap. This beauty treatment will not injure the skin and is easy to apply. Before retiring thoroughly cleanse the skin with BLACK and WHITE Soap; then mix and apply BLACK and WHITE Ointment according to the directions.

The BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment will also remove pimples, sun-freckles, insect bites, skin blotches, liver spots and other unightly blemishes of the skin. Remember that the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment is different from other cosmetics in that it removes—does not cover or hide—the blemishes.

You can buy BLACK and WHITE Ointment and Soap at all good drug stores for 25c each a package, or the manufacturers will send both post-paid on receipt of 50c.

You can get a free sample, literature and a BLACK and WHITE Birthday and Dream Book, if you will clip and mail this advertisement to BLACK and WHITE, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.

Girls! Buttermilk Creates Beauty Overnight

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic but the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, est and most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

It is absolutely harmless and will neither produce or stimulate the growth of hair. Within twenty-four hours this wonderful combination called Howard's Buttermilk Cream will work a marvelous transformation. Manufactured at Buffalo, N. Y., by Howard Bros. Chemical Co., Sayre & Hemphill

Naiman Caplinger, was appointed regular patrolman on the Police Department following the civil service examination conducted for patrolman Monday.

Caplinger was the only candidate for the position and he successfully passed the examination given. He will start his duties as patrolman, Saturday May 15, relieving Patrolman Ed. Wilkins, extra policeman, who has been serving regularly since the vacancy caused by the promotion of M. E. Graham to chief, and who was not an applicant for the regular position.

The new patrolman, has been employed for some time as farmer and gardener at the O. S. & S. O. Home and is 42 years of age. Leroy Dotson, newly appointed combination fireman and traffic officer, also passed the civil service examination given Monday night.

Dotson assumed his duties as fireman Monday and will start in as motorcycle speed cop, as soon as he can secure his motorcycle. Under the two platoon fire department system, Dotson will work 24 hours as fireman, with 24 hours off duty and on his off time he will act as traffic officer. He will stay at the fire engine house and be ready for call for police or fire at any time. His motorcycle will be equipped with hand chemicals.

SPRINGFIELD POLICE GET INCREASE IN SALARIES

Springfield, O., May 11.—Salaries of policemen and members of the service department of this city were increased by action taken by the city commission last night.

Policemen's salaries were increased $20 a month, effective June 16, and the increases in the service department amounted to five and ten cents an hour. The commission also approved changes in the fire department to permit the execution of the two platoon system.

The police salary schedule will be as follows: Chief of police, $2,300 to $2,400; inspectors of police, $1,920 to $2,100; two sergeants, $1,680 to $1,920; four detectives $1,560 to $1,800; 29 patrolmen, $1,440 to $1,680.

Killeen's present address is Olympic Athletic Club, Elvria, Ohio.

SUFFERED WITH SEVERE ECZEMA

Four Years. First Arms Spread. Itching Severe. Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered from a severe case of eczema. I first noticed a slight redness on my arms, and later it spread. The itching was so severe that I scratched, and could only sleep part of the night. The inflammation was so intense that the skin was almost purple."

"This lasted for nearly four years. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after the third application the itching was less. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Ointment and at the end of a month I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J. E. Ratcliffe, Caladonia, Minn., Aug. 29, 1919.

Try to prevent further trouble by using Cuticura for all toilet purposes.

YOUR COMPLEXION CAN BE MADE WHITE, SOFT AND YOUTHFUL

By the Use of the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment.

Every woman wishes to appear beautiful. The savage maiden tattoos her skin, fixes rings in her nose and uses other crude ornaments to make herself more attractive. An example of present-day beauty among civilized women is a soft velvety skin and a radiant complexion.

To improve your complexion, you should not use anything that hides your faded pimply, blotchy skin. Such applications last only a few hours and are injurious to the delicate skin tissue in many cases.

You can make your complexion beautiful by removing the faded, dark, sallow, blotchy skin with the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment, which consists of a creamy ointment and soap. This beauty treatment will not injure the skin and is easy to apply. Before retiring thoroughly cleanse the skin with BLACK and WHITE Soap; then mix and apply BLACK and WHITE Ointment according to the directions.

The BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment will also remove pimples, sun-freckles, insect bites, skin blotches, liver spots and other unightly blemishes of the skin. Remember that the BLACK and WHITE Beauty Treatment is different from other cosmetics in that it removes, does not cover or hide—the blemishes.

You can buy BLACK and WHITE Ointment and Soap at all good drug stores for 25c each a package, or the manufacturers will send both post-paid on receipt of 50c.

You can get a free sample, literature and a BLACK and WHITE Birthday and Dream Book, if you will clip and mail this advertisement to BLACK and WHITE, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.

HIGH SCHOOL PICKS LESOURD CAPTAIN OF 1921 B.B. TEAM

William LeSourd, popular athlete at Central High School, was unanimously chosen to lead the blue and white basketball team next year, at a meeting of this year's squad held Monday afternoon.

LeSourd was elected captain for his year, but owing to an injury received in football was unable to participate in only a few games. He showed peppy leadership while he was in however, and his selection has met with the approval of all.

Paul Boxwell was elected captain of the football eleven at a previous meeting and two of the best athletes in school will lead the team next year.

The athletes who played in the required number of games in either sport will be presented with an as soon as the letters arrive.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR TO BOOKER WASHINGTON.

By Ex-President Taft:—The death of Booker Washington seemed an irretrievable loss. Selected by General Armstrong to initiate and carry on the first vocational institute of learning conducted solely by black men for black men, he had become the leader of his people and was recognized as one of the great men of this generation. But this work in the uplift of the negro by teaching him the dignity of labor, its moral and educational value and by training him in the proper methods of labor has been singularly fortunate in finding the right man for the right place, as successor to Booker Washington.

General Armstrong was the inventor of all industrial education in this country, and was a genius in developing it for the negro. He was the spiritual and intellectual father of Booker Washington, who was as necessary to the ultimate success of the movement as was General Armstrong himself. Doctor Frissell, who succeeded General Armstrong, seemed to have been fashioned to supplement the general's work at Hampton, and under General Armstrong and Doctor Frissell there was prepared another negro for the succession, by twenty-five years' training as first assistant to Doctor Frissell. He was Robert Russa Moton.

Mr. Roosevelt, who was a member of the board of trustees of Tuskegee at the time of Doctor Washington's death and attended the meeting at which his successor was agreed upon, moved by the critical nature of their task, said: "I consider the selection of the successor of Doctor Washington as important for the country as the selection of a President of the United States." Doctor Moton was made principal of Tuskegee to succeed Doctor Washington. Four years of work have demonstrated the wisdom of the trustees in their choice. Tuskegee is, of course, the daughter of Hampton; and while there are differences in some of the problems, in the main their paths are parallel. Doctor Washington was a mulatto. His father was a white man, whom he did not know. It has been suggested that his ability and genius are to be attributed to his white blood. He is at pains in one of his books to answer this by pointing out that there are leaders of his race of force and ability who are full-blooded negroes. Doctor Moton is one of these. He is a man of powerful physique and of very dark color. He is just publishing his autobiography. Those who have read Booker Washington's "Up From Slavery" and remember the charm and interest and inspiration of the story will do well to read Doctor Moton's autobiography, which he calls "Finding a Way Out." Moton was born in 1867, after slavery had ceased to be. The story of his ancestry carries us close to his African origin. His father's mother lived to be 108 years old and was brought directly from Africa. His grandmother on his mother's side lived to ninety-six years of age. She remembered her great-grandfather, who was brought as a slave from Africa, where he had been the son of a chief and sold slaves to an American slaver. Lured on board the ship, he was drugged and brought away with the victims he had sold. It will be difficult for critics to trace Doctor Moton's talent and ability to any other than an African source or to find its existence in any white blood.

Doctor Moton's story differs from that of Doctor Washington, in that his youth was spent immediately after the war and that he found sympathy and assistance from the family of the former slave owner in which he lived. His description of his struggles and the way in which he was led on to his life's work in the development of his race through the industrial work of Hampton and of Tuskegee is full of interest. He was a graduate of Hampton in General Armstrong's time and came under his magnetic influence. He was first a student and then an associate in the government at Hampton with that angelic character, Doctor Frissell. The book is a valuable addition to the literature and history of the growth of the Hampton and Tuskegee spirit into its present wonderful results.

WHAT SHALL XENIA DO?

With Springfield still agitating the step for the passage of a daylight saving ordinance, and with Columbus, Cincinnati and Dayton already in the ranks, Xenia stands alone, an outsider, flaunting its maintenance of slow time as a distinct detriment to co-operation and progressive intercourse between the adjoining and closely linked communities. Xenia instead of being a leader in a wholesome, healthy movement, stands as a drag on the wheels of civic progress and economic advancement. And why? That is the question uppermost in the minds of the people of Xenia today. Why, in the face of an expressed desire of the people of the city, for at least a vote on the project, has the matter apparently been side-tracked, and ignored? If the wishes of the people amount to anything, the people is entitled to a vote on the strength of that desire alone, and when that wish is based on social and economic necessity, the issue becomes one that cannot in all fairness, and justice be deliberately set aside.

The necessity for the adoption of daylight saving in Xenia, is becoming a paramount issue. With summer making its way into the calendar the sun is up and well on its way before the majority of Xenia people are stirring, and that extra hour of daylight placed at the other end of the day would prove of undisputed benefit. Another vital argument for its adoption is the fact that surrounding cities on which we are more or less dependent, have adopted the plan. And last but by no means least, is the clearly drawn fact that the people of Xenia want daylight saving.

The economic side of the question is obvious. We are sociable beings, primarily, and are therefore dependent on each other, to a greater or less degree, in all human matters, and the argument put forth that if we want an extra hour of daylight, we can get up earlier, is erroneous because of that very fact. Our customs, our whole life, is based on community principles and to these we all look for guidance. For this reason it is essential to have a common impulse for certain actions, and the common impulse in the matter of the hour daylight is the action of the governing body. This project is important economically in that it makes for the health and happiness of the people, and also that it means a distinct economy in dollars and cents as was evidenced by the nation-wide decree during the war.

An intelligent vote on the part of the city commission is only justice to the city at large, and the city commission which is placed in control of affairs is duty bound to safeguard the interests of the public weal. Here is a clear-cut issue, that cannot be disregarded, and one that demands the highest type of duty public service. Let us have, at least, a vote on the project.

THE EDITOR DECRIES ABOUT SOMETHING LEFT OUT IN HIS MAKE-UP.

Though we have great cause to be thankful for a thousand blessings in life, we received a letter this morning that made us a little sour that we had been deprived of a source of soul enjoyment which has given to millions of other people very many hours of great happiness—the love of music.

The letter reads: "I have been fortunate enough to go to the opera eleven times in the last nine weeks. I have heard Caruso three times, Geraldine Farrar four, Amato, Martinella, DeLuca, and the incomparable Scotti each two or three times, so I feel I have had a great treat."

Music—what is this great, wonderful thing, the enjoyment of which is given to some, and wholly withheld from others? The fourth great material want of our nature—first food, then raiment, then shelter, then music. But alas, the latter withheld from millions of people, to their wonderful disadvantage, even though most of them feel not the loss.

There is something marvelous in music, almost a marvel in itself. Its position is somewhere between the region of thought and that of phenomena; a glimmering medium between mind and matter; related to both and yet differing from either. The direct relation of music is to the emotions. Isaak Walton said: "Lord, what music hast thou provided for thy saints in heaven, when thou affordest bad men such music on earth?"

If then music leads an intelligent being to the exercise or habit of highest mental enjoyment, and contributes more to his happiness—than that of any bodily pleasures, how much to be pitied is the man or woman from whose being is left out the wonderful pleasure thus derived. Pity him—he pities himself.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

THIS year I will not swat the flies, as I have soaked them in the past; I'll not as an avenger rise, and slay a million, first and last. 'Tis true I may resort to blows, and kill a few in self defense, when they alight upon my nose, and cause me agony intense. But I won't drop all other chores to chase the cheap, besotted flies, although the Health Board rips and roars, and says I'm foolish and unwise. For years I've plied my swatting stick, a million billion flies I've slain; results? their absence makes me sick—my weary toil was all in vain. There'll be more flies this year, I wist, than ever flopped around before; the ones I slew will not be missed; for each one killed there'll be a score. You've heard about the ancient gent who pushed a boulder up a hill; a few feet up the slope it went, and then slipped back, already still. No modern man would stand for that; results must come, or people quit; and so no more the flies I'll bat, since batting doesn't make a hit.

BAD LUCK.

IT is seldom ills are single; in a regiment they rise, and our scalding teardrops mingle with the tears of other guys. When a blaze calls out the firement, there'll be seven in a row, while the bards and kindred lyremen chant the litany of woe. Now a tire sustains a puncture, in a long cross-country run, and the driver, at this juncture, knows his grief is but begun. Not a parasang he'll travel, but a tire is running flat; tacks and nails and chunks of gravel all contributing to that. To the morals undermining are such grievous things as these, and his language, hot and shining, wilts the leaves on near-by trees. Things go wrong at early morning, wrong when from your couch you start and you take it as a warning that the day will break your heart. For our evils come cavorting, not, alas, as single spies; but in legions they come snorting, as we sadly swat the flies. But they'll soon have run their courses and the luck will change awhile; from our woe we'll have divorces, and we'll spring the old time smile.

DINNER STORIES

A small boy came to the Bright wood library and solemnly asked for cottage cheese. The librarian thought a moment and asked if he did not mean the book "Scottish Chiefs." "Yes," he said pleasantly, "I knew it was something like cheese."

Two women weavers were married on the same day, and each had declared her intention of not returning to mill life; but their husbands thought different, and the two brides were back on their three looms in a few days.

Mary Ellen struck a grand idea. Going home one evening, she began to cry, and her husband asked the reason. She refused to say. He insisted and she said:

"It's yon o'erlooker. He keeps winkin' at me."

"What!" cried the husband. "Winkin' at thee? Thee stop, a-whoam, lass. Aw con keep thee."

Mary explained the wheeze to her friend Sarah, who tried it on her husband.

The brute replied: "Oh, is that a? Well, lass, thee wink back, an' he'll gi' thee another loom!"—Blighty.

We noticed a dozen or more young gentlemen of the crap-shooting class engaged in their favorite outdoor sport on a Brooklyn street corner yesterday, when suddenly a cop swooped down from nowhere upon them. In two jumps the whole outfit were halfway to the East River.

The cop didn't bother to pursue he stooped down and scooped up the change, and as it jingled into his pocket he favored us with a wink. "Seven come eleven," says he "and win dinner money."

CEDARVILLE CLUB HOLDS FINAL MEETING.

Mrs. Hervey Bailey was hostess to the Research Club at its final meeting of the year. The roll call was answered by current events.

The subject, "Libraries" was opened with an excellent paper by Mrs. Oscar Wesley, also a talk on our library by Miss Lucile Gray.

A discussion relative to the founding of the local library follows. Whitelaw Reid contributed 500 volumes, and through the college and Andrew Carnegie the library was installed.

Is It Yours

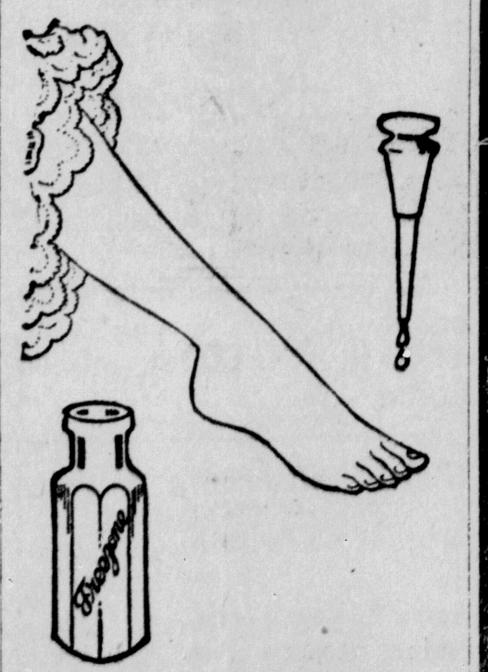

James Gordon Bennett, Jr., was the son of the great Bennett who founded the New York Herald. He was born in New York City in 1841, and was brought up in a home where politics and journalism were most frequently discussed. He was trained as a newspaper man, and it was his father's ambition that he carry out the ideals with which the Herald was founded.

When he was still a young man, Bennett went to Paris and there took charge of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, which was always such a boon to traveling Americans whose French was not very fluent. He kept in close touch with every part of his newspapers, and knew almost every employee from the editors down to the pressman.

In carrying out his father's ideas that a journal should, if possible, do more than print the news of the day, he fitted out the Jeanette expedition to the Polar Sea, and he laid an ocean telegraph to curb two great

Two men and a board might be all right as a start for damming a river; but they will never get beyond the starting point without help and more material.

In the same way the telephone company might serve a few people in a limited manner and for a limited time, even if it could not pay expenses.

But the Central Union Telephone Company has to do business on a business-like basis. It has a payroll to meet and materials to buy. And everybody knows that the amount of money required to operate any business, or the home, three, two or even one year ago, is not sufficient to pay operating expenses today.

As the telephone company earns its money from the service it renders, it must look to its subscribers for support. We want to keep our service at its maximum efficiency.

Lured on board the ship, he was drugged and brought away with the victims he had sold. It will be difficult for critics to trace Doctor Moton's talent and ability to any other than an African source or to find its existence in any white blood.

Doctor Moton's story differs from that of Doctor Washington, in that his youth was spent immediately after the war and that he found sympathy and assistance from the family of the former slave owner in which he lived. His description of his struggles and the way in which he was led on to his life's work in the development of his race through the industrial work of Hampton and of Tuskegee is full of interest. He was a graduate of Hampton in General Armstrong's time and came under his magnetic influence. He was first a student and then an associate in the government at Hampton with that angelic character, Doctor Frissell. The book is a valuable addition to the literature and history of the growth of the Hampton and Tuskegee spirit into its present wonderful results.

WHAT SHALL XENIA DO?

With Springfield still agitating the step for the passage of a daylight saving ordinance, and with Columbus, Cincinnati and Dayton already in the ranks, Xenia stands alone, an outsider, flaunting its maintenance of slow time as a distinct detriment to co-operation and progressive intercourse between the adjoining and closely linked communities. Xenia instead of being a leader in a wholesome, healthy movement, stands as a drag on the wheels of civic progress and economic advancement. And why? That is the question uppermost in the minds of the people of Xenia today. Why, in the face of an expressed desire of the people of the city, for at least a vote on the project, has the matter apparently been side-tracked, and ignored? If the wishes of the people amount to anything, the people is entitled to a vote on the strength of that desire alone, and when that wish is based on social and economic necessity, the issue becomes one that cannot in all fairness, and justice be deliberately set aside.

The necessity for the adoption of daylight saving in Xenia, is becoming a paramount issue. With summer making its way into the calendar the sun is up and well on its way before the majority of Xenia people are stirring, and that extra hour of daylight placed at the other end of the day would prove of undisputed benefit. Another vital argument for its adoption is the fact that surrounding cities on which we are more or less dependent, have adopted the plan. And last but by no means least, is the clearly drawn fact that the people of Xenia want daylight saving.

The economic side of the question is obvious. We are sociable beings, primarily, and are therefore dependent on each other, to a greater or less degree, in all human matters, and the argument put forth that if we want an extra hour of daylight, we can get up earlier, is erroneous because of that very fact. Our customs, our whole life, is based on community principles and to these we all look for guidance. For this reason it is essential to have a common impulse for certain actions, and the common impulse in the matter of the hour daylight is the action of the governing body. This project is important economically in that it makes for the health and happiness of the people, and also that it means a distinct economy in dollars and cents as was evidenced by the nation-wide decree during the war.

An intelligent vote on the part of the city commission is only justice to the city at large, and the city commission which is placed in control of affairs is duty bound to safeguard the interests of the public weal. Here is a clear-cut issue, that cannot be disregarded, and one that demands the highest type of duty to public service. Let us have, at least, a vote on the project.

THE EDITOR DECRIES ABOUT SOMETHING LEFT OUT IN HIS MAKE-UP.

Though we have great cause to be thankful for a thousand blessings in life, we received a letter this morning that made us a little sour that we had been deprived of a source of soul enjoyment which has given to millions of other people very many hours of great happiness—the love of music.

The letter reads: "I have been fortunate enough to go to the opera eleven times in the last nine weeks. I have heard Caruso three times, Geraldine Farrar four, Amato, Martinella, DeLucca, and the incomparable Scotti each two or three times, so I feel I have had a great treat."

Music—what is this great, wonderful thing, the enjoyment of which is given to some, and wholly withheld from others? The fourth great material want of our nature—first food, then rain, then shelter, then music. But alas, the latter withheld from millions of people, to their wonderful disadvantage, even though most of them feel not the loss.

There is something marvelous in music, almost a marvel in itself. Its position is somewhere between the region of thought and that of phenomena; a glimmering medium between mind and matter; related to both and yet differing from either. The direct relation of music is to the emotions. Isaac Walton said: "Lord, what music hast thou provided for thy saints in heaven, when thou afforded bad men such music on earth?"

If then music leads an intelligent being to the exercise or habit of highest mental enjoyment, and contributes more to his happiness—than that of any bodily pleasures, how much to be pitied is the man or woman from whose being is left out the wonderful pleasure thus derived. Pity him—he pities himself.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

THIS year I will not swat the flies, as I have soaked them in the past; I'll not as an avenger rise, and slay a million, first and last. 'Tis true I may resort to blows, and kill a few in self defense, when they alight upon my nose, and cause me agony intense. But I won't drop all other chores to chase the cheap, besotted flies, although the Health Board rips and roars, and says I'm foolish and unwise. For years I've plied my swatting stick, a million billion flies I've slain; results? their absence makes me sick—my weary toil was all in vain. There'll be more flies this year, I wist, than ever flopped around before; the ones I slew will not be missed; for each one killed there'll be a score. You've heard about the ancient gent who pushed a boulder up a hill; a few feet up the slope it went, and then slipped back, already still. No modern man would stand for that; results must come, or people quit; and so no more the flies I'll bat, since batting doesn't make a hit.

BAD LUCK.

IT is seldom ills are single; in a regiment they rise, and our scalding teardrops mingle with the tears of other guys. When a blaze calls out the firement, there'll be seven in a row, while the bards and kindred lyreman chant the litany of woe. Now a tire sustains a puncture, in a long cross-country run, and the driver, at this juncture, knows his grief is but begun. Not a parasang he'll travel, but a tire is running flat; tacks and nails and chunks of gravel all contributing to that. To the morals undermining are such grievous things as these, and his language, hot and shining, wilts the leaves on nearby trees. Things go wrong at early morning, wrong when from your couch you start and you take it as a warning that the day will break your heart. For our evils come cavorting, not alas, as single spies; but in legions they come snorting, as we sadly swat the flies. But they'll soon have run their courses and the luck will change awhile; from our woe we'll have divorces, and we'll spring the old time smile.

DINNER STORIES

A small boy came to the Bright wood library and solemnly asked for cottage cheese. The librarian thought a moment and asked if he did not mean the book "Scottish Chiefs."

"Yes," he said pleasantly, "I knew it was something like cheese."

Two women weavers were married on the same day, and each had declared her intention of not returning to mill life; but their husbands thought different, and the two brides were back on their three looms in a few days.

Mary Ellen struck a grand idea. Going home one evening, she began to cry, and her husband asked the reason. She refused to say. He insisted and she said:

"It's yon o'erlooker. He keeps winking at me."

"What!" cried the husband. "Winkin' at thee? Thee stop a-whoam, lass. Aw con keep thee."

Mary explained the wheeze to her friend Sarah, who tried it on her husband.

The brute replied: "Oh, is that a? Well, lass, thee wink back, an' he'll gi' thee another loom!"—Blighty.

We noticed a dozen or more young gentlemen of the crap-shooting class engaged in their favorite outdoor sport on a Brooklyn street corner yesterday, when suddenly a cop swooped down from nowhere upon them. In two jumps the whole outfit was halfway to the East River.

The cop didn't bother to pursue he stooped down and scooped up the change, and as it jingled into his pocket he favored us with a wink "Seven come eleven," says he "and win dinner money."

CEDARVILLE CLUB HOLDS FINAL MEETING.

Mrs. Hervey Bailey was hostess to the Research Club at its final meeting of the year. The roll call was answered by current events.

The subject, "Libraries" was opened with an excellent paper by Mrs. Oscar Wesley, also a talk on our library by Miss Lucile Gray.

A discussion relative to the founding of the local library follows.

Whitlaw Reid contributed 500 volumes, and through the college and Andrew Carnegie the library was installed.

The subjects for next year's program were discussed, and the following were suggested: Home Economics, Travel and Present Day Authors, which suggestion was left in the hands of program committee.

Mrs. Hervey aBiley, Mrs. J. P. White, Mrs. C. M. Crouse, Mrs. Allent Stromont.

While music was furnished by Victrola, the hostess served refreshments.

Is It Yours

James Gordon Bennett, Jr., was the son of the great Bennett who founded the New York Herald. He was born in New York City in 1841, and was brought up in a home where politics and journalism were most frequently discussed. He was trained as a newspaper man, and it was his father's ambition that he carry out the ideals with which the Herald was founded.

When he was still a young man, Bennett went to Paris and there took charge of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, which was always such a boon to travelling Americans whose French was not very fluent. He kept in close touch with every part of his newspapers, and knew almost every employee from the editors down to the pressman.

In carrying out his father's ideas that a journal should, if possible, do more than print the news of the day, he fitted out the Jeanette expedition to the Polar Sea, and he laid an ocean telegraph to curb two great

Impossible!

Two men and a board might be all right as a start for damming a river; but they will never get beyond the starting point without help and more material.

The same is true of a business. A small income and a few goods may start things going; but the start will come to a sudden halt without reinforcements.

In the same way the telephone company might serve a few people in a limited manner and for a limited time,even if it could not pay expenses.

But the Central Union Telephone Company has to do business on a business-like basis. It has a payroll to meet and materials to buy. And everybody knows that the amount of money required to operate any business, or the home, three, two or even one year ago, is not sufficient to pay operating expenses today.

As the telephone company earns its money from the service it renders, it must look to its subscribers for support. We want to keep our service at its maximum efficiency.

This is IMPOSSIBLE without adequate rates.

Beauty Chats

It never pays to do things in a hurry. The other night I began to make up my formula for fine cold cream, and because I did it in a hurry, I spoiled four perfectly good jars full, and only rescued some of it after a lot of work and experimenting.

When you make cold cream, heat your wax and spermacetti in the oil until it is melted. And don't heat it any longer than that! Otherwise, your ingredients will be too hot. Heat your rose water separately, but do not have this too hot. Then pour one into the other; add the borax and the tincture of benzoin, and mix and stir until it has cooked enough to cloud; then, when it is ready to harden, pour off quickly into jars. If you do this pouring when it is like thick cream, you will have a cosmetic that will be delightful to use.

I made the mistake many readers make—I let the oil grow too hot. Then when I poured in the rose water, the whole mass fussed up and spilled over. I drove the wax from the oil in the mixture, and the result was lumpy and unweildy.

Further heating melted the wax lumps, but the cream when cold was thick, hard to spread on, only good to massage when I had my skin very hot from holding a hot wet towel over it. Then it massaged, as it was warmed and softened, and it made the skin feel as refreshed as though it had come out allright. But it was hard work getting it to the stage where it would massage.

As the stuff had spilled over, I did not know whether I had lost too much wax or too much oil. So I heated the cream again, by setting one of the jars in hot water. I added a tablespoonful of oil to that, and stirred it with a fork until it was ready to congeal.

I experimented with another by adding a little more wax melting in. And with a third by adding more rose water. The one that came out best was the one with oil added. Evidently I had driven out the oil, and that was what had spoiled over. The jar with too much wax. I saved by adding quite a bit of oil and a little rose water.

So it turned out all right after all. But next time I shall be careful!

The formula is:
White wax 1 ounce
Spermacetti 1 ounce
Powdered borax 30 grains
Oil bitter almonds 20 drops
Tincture benzoin 1 drachm.

COOKIES and SMALL CAKES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

WHEN the children romp in hungry as young bears, here are some wholesome, economical delights that will not only be received with glee, but will satisfy the most ravenous appetite in a most wholesome manner.

Cookies
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract or grated rind of 1 lemon
4 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
Cream shortening and sugar together; add milk to beaten eggs and beat again; add slowly to creamed shortening and sugar; add nutmeg and flavoring; add 2 cups flour sifted with baking powder; add enough more flour to make stiff dough. Roll out very thin on floured board; cut with cookie cutter, sprinkle with sugar, or put a raisin or a piece of English walnut in the center of each. Bake about 12 minutes in hot oven.

Cocoa Drop Cakes
4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg; beat well and add milk slowly; sift flour, baking powder, salt and cocoa into mixture; stir until smooth; add vanilla. Put one tablespoon of batter into each greased muffin tin and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Cover with boiled icing.

Orange Cakes
4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon orange extract
grated rind of 1 orange
Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, beating well; add milk a little at a time; then add well-beaten egg; sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to mixture; add flavoring and grated orange rind; mix well. Bake in greased shallow tin, or individual cake tins, in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes. When cool cover with orange icing.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs. Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try his great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Gazette or Republican.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished.

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

grated rind of 1 lemon
4 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

Cream shortening and sugar together; add milk to beaten eggs and beat again; add slowly to creamed shortening and sugar; add nutmeg and flavoring; add 2 cups flour sifted with baking powder; add enough more flour to make stiff dough. Roll out very thin on floured board; cut with cookie cutter, sprinkle with sugar, or put a raisin or a piece of English walnut in the center of each. Bake about 12 minutes in hot oven.

Cocoa Drop Cakes

4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg; beat well and add milk slowly; sift flour, baking powder, salt and cocoa into mixture; stir until smooth, add vanilla. Put one tablespoon of batter into each greased muffin tin and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Cover with boiled icing.

Orange Cakes

4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon orange extract
grated rind of 1 orange

Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, beating well; add milk a little at a time; then add well-beaten egg; sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to mixture; add flavoring and grated orange rind; mix well. Bake in greased shallow tin, or individual cake tins, in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes. When cool cover with orange icing.

LEAKY valves and sticky valve stems are often traceable to carbon and sooty residue deposited by incompletely burned fuel charges.

Red Crown Gasoline burns up clean, leaving a minimum of residue, because it is refined to the complete chain of boiling points which insures full vaporization, instant ignition and complete combustion. Red Crown is a clean, straight-distilled refinery gasoline—not a mixture.

ASSESSORS CHECK UP TAX RETURNS

The voluntary personal property tax returns made by individuals before May 1, are now being turned over by County Auditor R. O. eWad to the assessors. The assessors will check up the returns against those made last year. In cases of persons who have not made returns and who should have lawfully done so the assessors will make the returns themselves. Such persons will be deprived of the $100 exemption, and will be assessed a 50 per cent penalty.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he has used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for every-thing.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try his great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing write full name and mention the Gazette or Republican.

BEATS ORDINARY SPRING TONICS

In the spring, the blood, heavy with winter's accumulations, needs purification. If nature is helped in eliminating this excess through natural channels, no so-called "Spring Tonic" is needed. Nitelets relieve constipation and indigestion—tone up the intestinal tract—keep you well. 25c all druggists.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery

Peaky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q." A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cooties and at the same time destroy their eggs. Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free patient report in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get places and save the juice. ## URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH

WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished.

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

O. S. & S. O. HOME TEAM COMPLETES SEASON

"COLLEGE TOWN" WILL BE PRESENTED BY JUNIOR HIGH CLASS

The public will on Thursday, May 13, be given a chance to see "A College Town" by Walter Ben Hare, presented by members of the Junior Class under the direction of Miss Coffin, the class faculty advisor.

A chorus of Junior girls will sing between acts several musical novelties which are "guaranteed to please." One feature of the play is a dance given by three giddy "widows." "Tad" Cheseldine, "Shorty" Long, and "Bil" Van Doren.

The tickets may be bought from any member of the Junior Class and the play will be at Sayre & Hemphill's, Tuesday. The tickets for the first floor are 50 cents and may be reserved without extra cost. The balcony seats may be secured at the ticket office Thursday night for 35 cents. All school children with the exception of High School students will be admitted to the matinee performance Thursday afternoon for 15 cents.

XENIAN TO APPEAR IN FIRST RECITAL IN EAST SUNDAY

Marcus Shoup, Jr., talented young violinist, son of Judge and Mrs. Marcus Shoup, will appear in his first big recital next Sunday afternoon at the studio of his teacher, Ovid M. M. M. famous Belgian master of the violin in New York.

Marcus Shoup has been studying under M. M. M. for several years, and his playing has already attracted favorable attention. His mother is leaving for New York in the afternoon for New York to appear at the recital and to be with her children, Miss Katherine, and Miss M. M. M. for two weeks. Miss M. M. M. who has had a part in the new comedy "Honeydew," which made a short but successful run in New York, is now back in New York.

The season was almost ended when the company concluded its engagements outside the metropolis. It was decided not to open the New York engagement until September.

EARNST CLEVENGER TO WED NEW YORK GIRL.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. D. Barron, 448 Central Park West, New York City, of the engagement of their daughter, Helen Elizabeth, to Mr. Earnst E. Clevenger of Springfield, Mass. Their marriage will take place in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Foster G. Burdell of the Normandie Hotel, the latter part of the summer. Mr. Clevenger was a former resident of Xenia, and a son of L. F. Clevenger of this city. Both he and the bride to be formerly lived in Columbus.

DON'T LEAVE XENIA

No Need To Seek Ajar. The Evidence Is at Your Door.

No need to leave Xenia to hunt up proof, because you have it here at home. The straightforward statement of a Xenia resident like that given below, bears an interest for every man, woman and child here in Xenia.

James H. Blackburn, 216 N. West St., Xenia, says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and I had awful pains in my back. Those pains started just over my kidneys and extended to my hips and legs and all through the small of my back. A friend told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. Doan's were just what I needed. They strengthened my kidneys and drove out the trouble in my back." (Statement given January 8, 1915.)

LASTING RESULTS

On August 2, 1917, Mr. Blackburn said: "Doan's Kidney Pills surely did all I said for them in the statement I gave in 1915. I am glad to say the cure Doan's gave me has lasted."

Cookies, Cakes and Crackers

At Their Very Best

Yes, "Edgemont" Cookies, Cakes and Crackers Taste as Good as They Look

My friends say that "Edgemonts" are delightful treats. And I am sure that not only you, but your friends who "drop in" and your family, at each meal and between meals, will find them deliciously eatable.

It is so nice to have a supply on your pantry shelves. For you (and what woman does not) like to have treats for friends and family. Especially when such delightful treats are so easy to get.

And Such a Variety from Which to Choose

Mouth-melting sugar, molasses and honey cakes—plain or iced—chocolate, vanilla, lemon, ginger, spice or nutmeg flavored. Distinctive in design, wholesome, exceedingly tasty—the highest examples of the baker's art.

Tasty, flaky crackers of different kinds like butter, soda, lemon, reception, lunch.

Choice combinations of baked confections with selected fillings, preserves, marshmallows, English walnuts and cocoanut, some encased in milk chocolate.

Delicious wafers such as graham, vanilla, caramel, sugar, macaroon.

You will find them all in the list of Good-Goods baked by The Green & Green Co.

Your Grocer can Supply Them

Right near you is your grocer, the man who owns and runs his store to serve you and your community with the best of things to eat. He can supply or get you just the "Edgemont" Cookie, Cake or Cracker you want. For we maintain our daily truck service to deliver to him crisp and fresh the Good-Goods made by The Green & Green Company.

A Letter from an Honored Congressman

Requests us to send to his wife at their apartment in Washington, another supply of Edgemont Good-Goods. "From no one else," he writes, "have we been able to get Crackers such as you make."

Another gentleman writes: "Send my sisters in Arizona a supply of those good, old-fashioned Hard Butter-Crackers." He says "No other kind can satisfy their taste."

And, as these two letters are but typical of hundreds of letters we receive, you may be sure that we are inspired daily to live up to the principles that we established years ago—

—to use only the best selection of materials.

—to have these carefully selected materials mixed and formed and baked by superior bakers.

—to pack them with scrupulous care, and clean.

—to deliver them oven-fresh to your grocer.

The green label, our trade mark, and the double-bordered green tin at your grocer's are the assurance to you that we have accepted the responsibility of serving you as you would be served.

Our motto is "Forward"—always remembering our responsibility to make our Good-Goods attractive, appetizing, wholesome—to please you.

LEGAL NOTICE NO. 15308

Court of Common Pleas, Greene County, Ohio.

The Board of County Commissioners, of Greene County, Ohio, Plaintiff, vs. William E. Reid, Defendant.

The defendant William E. Reid, whose place of residence is Farmer City, Illinois, will take notice that on the 16th day of March, 1929, the Board of County Commissioners of Greene County, Ohio, filed its certain application or petition against him in the Common Pleas Court of Greene County, Ohio, in which petition said plaintiff seeks to appropriate certain land to wit, 43.34 acres of said defendant, to-wit, 43.34 acres of land, situated in survey No. 118, Ross Township, Greene County, Ohio, said petition setting forth that the plaintiff desires to purchase from said defendant, gravel, the exact amount of which is unknown to plaintiff, but approximately 15.00 yards, the same to be removed by plaintiff from a gravel pit on said premises of the defendant, said gravel to be used by the plaintiff for the purposes of constructing, improving, maintaining and repairing certain highways in the Townships of Ross and Cedarville, in County, Ohio; that plaintiff and defendant cannot agree on the price of said gravel, and that said proceeding is brought by the plaintiff under provisions of Section 7214 to Section 7219 inclusive of the General Code of Ohio; that the prayer of said application or petition is that the court may fix a day on which appraisers will be appointed by the court to assess the value of said gravel; that notice may be issued to defendant, as required by law; that upon the day so fixed by the court, appraisers shall be appointed to assess the value of said gravel, and that such further proceedings may be had in this Court as are required by law, and pursuant to said provisions of the General Code as aforesaid; that the Court has fixed the 29th day of May, 1929, at 9 o'clock A. M. or as soon thereafter as may be convenient to the Court, as the date and time at which the Court will appoint three (3) disinterested freeholders of Greene County, Ohio, to assess the value of said gravel.

The Board of County Commissioners of Greene County, Ohio, Plaintiff.

Harry D. Smith, Prosecuting Attorney, Greene County, Ohio. Attorney for Plaintiff.

FOR THE HOME BAKER

Orange Salad—Slice thin one-half orange per person, arrange on lettuce leaf, sprinkle with nut meats. Serve with dressing made of three-quarters cup olive oil, one-quarter cup vinegar, salt, cayenne, shaken in jar and chilled thoroughly.

Cinnamon Buns—Two and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons shortening, one egg, one-half cup water, one-half cup of sugar, two teaspoons cinnamon and four tablespoons seeded raisins.

Sift two tablespoons of measured sugar with flour, salt and baking powder; rub shortening in lightly; add beaten egg to water and add slowly. Roll out one-half inch thick on floured board; brush with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Roll as for jelly roll; cut into one and one-half inch pieces; place with cut edges up on well-greased pan; sprinkle with a little sugar and cinnamon. Bake in moderate oven thirty to thirty-five minutes; remove from pan at once.

Parker House Rolls—Four cups of flour, one teaspoon salt, six teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons shortening and one and one-half cups milk.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add melted shortening to milk and add slowly to dry ingredients, stirring until smooth. Knead lightly on floured board and roll out one-half inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter. Crease each circle with back of knife one side of center. Butter the small section and fold larger part well over the small. Place one inch apart in greased pan. Allow to stand fifteen minutes in warm place. Brush each with melted butter and bake in moderate oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Eggs au Gratin—For two people, hard boil four eggs, shell, cut in halves cross wise and place in baking dish. Pour over them one cup of white sauce—two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour cooked till it bubbles and one cup milk added and cooked until thick, and sprinkle over with chopped cream cheese. Place in hot oven till cheese is melted and serve at once.

Stuffed Flank—Buy about two pounds of flank and have the butcher cut a pocket in it. Take half a large loaf of stale bread, add salt, pepper, sage and one small onion; crumble well and slightly moisten with water. Fill the pocket with this dressing, sew up the opening and place in roasting pan with one cup of water. Bake in hot oven about three hours, basting frequently with liquor in bottom of pan, adding more if it cooks down. When done, stir two tablespoons of flour into this liquor till it bubbles, add cold water and cook till thick. This is a cheap cut of meat, and delicious baked in this manner. This will serve four.

SUIT BOUGHT NOW WILL DO FOR FALL

The wise woman will watch the suit sales of late spring and buy at a low price a suit which may be worn for traveling during the summer and for fall wear later. This suit which was seen in a marked-down sale recently is an excellent type of the semi-dress, practical suit which every woman should possess.

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

MARKET TREND

STOCKS

As always heavy liquidation has done much to strengthen the technical position of the stock market. Brokers' loans are reported less than $1,000,000,000—lowest in years—and the credit stringency in the east is not such as to precipitate a sharp decline from present levels. Nevertheless if the long-awaited readjustment has begun, the public may expect values to range lower rather than higher. Even this is not assured. The outlook is necessarily uncertain in times like the present. The market is sure to experience reactions and recoveries. The short interest has been large and represents a strong sustaining influence.

A moderate revival of bullish enthusiasm during the next few weeks is not impossible. While the Federal Reserve banks are advancing discount rates, the freer movement of traffic will release frozen credit and saving may be expected to increase if buying slackens.

GRAIN

With corn 40 to 55 cents above the low point of February and oats 23 cents to 28 cents above market sentiment during past weeks has not been as pronouncedly bullish as the high quotations would give reason to expect. Traders expected a sharp break in what seemed to heavy market. Nevertheless they have recognized that even granting market improvement in weather and traffic conditions, the season has advanced too far to permit of large accumulations at primary markets this year.

Use of the abandoned wheat acreage for corn may increase the corn acreage over a year ago. Feeders will consume less corn than usual this next year, from present indications, owing to the relatively low prices of hog products. There may be a large excess of corn. Increase in various industrial demands for corn will more than offset the loss due to prohibition.

LIVESTOCK

Hog receipts became excessive as the railroads made further progress in clearing up accumulations due to the strike. Prices suffered. Feeders will be disinclined to raise porkers on as large a scale as heretofore unless values show a marked recovery. An over long periods of time sheep and lambs have seemed more favored than any other branch of the livestock industry. Shorn and woolled lambs have sold high. Calves have moved to market in large volume, depressing values to lowest levels of the season. The proportion of butcher cattle has been small at all markets. Stock cattle have begun to move from Texas to Kansas pastures. May is expected to develop a liberal run of cattle, dependent on car supply.

AGRICULTURE

May Should See Heavy Marketing of Wheat—Packer Football to Receive Another Kick—Ohio State Constabulary Advocated.

The month of May should see heavy marketing of wheat if railroad conditions permit. The wheat guarantee for no other, the farmers view with disapproval sporadic switchmen's strikes and threats of strike by all the brotherhoods. Due to the restrictions laid upon marketing, the amount of money loaned on grain during the winter was exceptionally large.

No provision has been made to protect the farmer who can not get shipping accommodations prior to June 1. Perhaps this omission is immaterial since the price of wheat is now above the guarantee and gives every indication of staying there.

A LETTER

Chapter 8

What a comfort an understanding person is! That was just what my father was—an understanding person.

I used to feel that no matter what I might do, he would be sure to know I meant it all right. So I up and told him all about my long walks with Kenneth. It was about a month after Kenneth had gone back to California. Fortunately I always had breakfast with Dad, while Mother had hers in bed, Father looked through his mail as usual; then he said:

"Here's a letter for you, Zena." When he handed it to me his eyes looked exactly as if he wanted to wink, but wouldn't.

It was from Kenneth. I knew by the postmark.

"Aren't you going to open it and tell a doting parent what that Westerner has to say?" Father asked, smiling at me.

"Of course. You can read it yourself if you want to. I am positive it will be interesting."

I wasn't so sure when I drew the short note from the envelope.

"Don't look so disappointed, dear; maybe he is sort of feeling his way this time."

"Dear Zena"—Kenneth began his letter, and I wondered before I read any further what Mother would say to that. Then he went on:

"I had a quick, uneventful trip home. Met no one who particularly interested me, so had plenty of time to think of the wonderful time I had in New York. Not that I cared especially for the big town itself, but the people whom I met were most gracious, so making my visit a delight.

"I wonder if you will write me just a note. I imagined your Mother did not seem pleased when I spoke of writing you. Do YOU want me to write now that you have had time to think things over—or have you forgotten me? It has been a month, four long weeks, and you have so much in your life, so many friends, I scarcely dare hope you will take time for me, to write to me. Yet I am hoping to hear from you; and shall go on hoping until a letter comes—no matter how long I have to wait.

"Please remember me to your Father. I enjoyed my talk with him so much. I think you are like him. I could pay you no higher compliment. Please give my regards to your Mother also. I have wished she liked me better. But some day perhaps I may meet her again, and leave a different impression.

"My horse and dog welcomed me upon my return. The old Mexican woman who cooks for me told me the dog had grieved while I was away. It is something to have even a dumb beast love you enough to miss you. I wonder, do you like animals? I forgot to ask. You will have to answer my letter so that, I may know. You see, to me that is a very important question: Do you like animals?"

"With best wishes for your happiness I am, "Sincerely, Kenneth Lawrence."

"Here, Dad!" I handed him the letter.

"Really want me to see it, Zena?"

"Of course I do. It would be a pity if you didn't see the nice compliment he pays to you—although I suppose you'll say as he does, that I am the one to be complimented."

"My curiosity is excited, I guess I'll have to read it."

He read along in silence until he came to the paragraph where Kenneth said I was like him, and that he could pay me no higher compliment.

"A fellow of rare discernment," Dad said, his eyes twinkling. "And a good deal of tact, also," he added. Then: "I like what he says about animals. I think you will have to write and tell him that you are fond of horses and dogs also. At least I judge you are by my bills at the riding academy, and for that last Pom you bought."

"So you think I should tell him quite soon that I like animals?"

"Oh, I wouldn't be in too much of a hurry. To-morrow or day after would do," he teased me.

"I'll show you my reply if you'll promise not to tell—anybody."

"Cross my heart, Zena. Make it brief. If you do he'll be more anxious for the next one," and kissing me fondly, Dad departed for the office, leaving me to reread my letter again before I joined Mother.

FOR THE HOME BAKER

Orange Salad—Slice thin one-half orange per person, arrange on lettuce leaf, sprinkle with nut meats. Serve with dressing made of three-quarters cup olive oil, one-quarter cup vinegar, salt, cayenne, shaken in jar and chilled thoroughly.

Cinnamon Buns—Two and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons shortening, one egg, one-half cup water, one-half cup of sugar, two teaspoons cinnamon and four tablespoons seeded raisins.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add melted shortening to milk and add slowly to dry ingredients, stirring until smooth. Knead lightly on floured board and roll out one-half inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter. Crease each circle with back of knife one side of center. Butter the small section and fold larger part well over the small. Place one inch apart in greased pan. Allow to stand fifteen minutes in warm place. Brush each with melted butter and bake in moderate oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Eggs au Gratin—For two people, hard boil four eggs, shell, cut in halves cross wise and place in baking dish. Pour over them one cup of white sauce—two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour cooked till it bubbles and one cup milk added and cooked until thick, and sprinkle over with chopped cream cheese. Place in hot oven till cheese is melted and serve at once.

Stuffed Flank—Buy about two pounds of flank and have the butcher cut a pocket in it. Take half a large loaf of stale bread, add salt, pepper, sage and one small onion; crumble well and slightly moisten with dressing, sew up the opening and place in roasting pan with one cup of water. Bake in hot oven about three hours, basting frequently with liquor in bottom of pan, adding more if it cooks down. When done, stir two tablespoons of flour into this liquor till it bubbles, add cold water and cook till thick. This is a cheap cut of meat, and delicious baked in this manner. This will serve four.

MARKET AND
FINANCIAL NEWSMARKET TREND
STOCKS

As always heavy liquidation has done much to strengthen the technical position of the stock market. Brokers' loans are reported less than $1,000,000,000—lowest in years—and the credit stringency in the east is not such as to precipitate a sharp decline from present levels. Nevertheless if the long-awaited readjustment has begun, the public may expect values to range lower rather than higher. Even this is not assured. The outlook is necessarily uncertain in times like the present. The market is sure to experience reactions and recoveries. The short interest has been large and represents a strong sustaining influence.

A moderate revival of bullish enthusiasm during the next few weeks is not impossible. While the Federal Reserve banks are advancing discount rates, the freer movement of traffic will release frozen credit and saving may be expected to increase if buying slackens.

GRAIN

With corn 40 to 55 cents above the low point of February and oats 23 cents to 28 cents above market sentiment during past weeks has not been as pronouncedly bullish as the high quotations would give reason to expect. Traders expected a sharp break in what seemed to be a heavy market. Nevertheless they have recognized that even granting market improvement in weather and traffic conditions, the season has advanced too far to permit of large accumulations at primary markets this year.

Use of the abandoned wheat acreage for corn may increase the corn acreage over a year ago. Feeders will consume less corn than usual this next year, from present indications, owing to the relatively low prices of hog products. There may be a large excess of corn. Increase in various industrial demands for corn will more than offset the loss due to prohibition.

LIVESTOCK

Hog receipts became excessive as the railroads made further progress in clearing up accumulations due to the strike. Prices suffered. Feeders will be disinclined to raise porkers on as large a scale as heretofore unless values show a marked recovery. Then over long periods of time sheep and lambs have seemed more favored than any other branch of the livestock industry. Shorn and woolled lambs have sold high. Calves have moved to market in large volume, depressing values to lowest levels of the season. The proportion of butcher cattle has been small at all markets. Stock cattle have begun to move from Texas to Kansas pastures. May is expected to develop a liberal run of cattle, dependent on car supply.

AGRICULTURE

May Should See Heavy Marketing of Wheat—Packer Football to Receive Another Kick—Ohio State Constabulary Advocated.

The month of May should see heavy marketing of wheat if railroad conditions permit. For this reason, if not for any other, the farmers view with disapproval sporadic switchmen's strikes and threats of strike by all the brotherhoods. Due to the restrictions laid upon marketing, the amount of money loaned on grain during the winter was exceptionally large.

No provision has been made to protect the farmer who can not get shipping accommodations prior to June 1. Perhaps this omission is immaterial since the price of wheat is now above the guarantee and gives every indication of staying there.

A LETTER

Chapter 8

What a comfort an understanding person is! That was just what my father was—an understanding person.

I used to feel that no matter what I might do, he would be sure to know I meant it all right. So I up and told him all about my long walks with Kenneth. It was about a month after Kenneth had gone back to California. Fortunately I always had breakfast with Dad, while Mother had hers in bed. Father looked through his mail as usual; then he said:

"Here's a letter for you, Zena." When he handed it to me his eyes looked exactly as if he wanted to wink, but wouldn't.

It was from Kenneth. I knew by the postmark.

"Aren't you going to open it and tell a doting parent what that Westerner has to say?" Father asked, smiling at me.

"Of course. You can read it yourself if you want to. I am positive it will be interesting."

I wasn't so sure when I drew the short note from the envelope.

"Don't look so disappointed, dear; maybe he is sort of feeling his way this time."

"Dear Zena"—Kenneth began his letter, and I wondered before I read any further what Mother would say to that. Then he went on:

"I had a quick, uneventful trip home. Met no one who particularly interested me, so had plenty of time to think of the wonderful time I had in New York. Not that I cared especially for the big town itself, but the people whom I met were most gracious, so making my visit a delight.

"I wonder if you will write me just a note. I imagined your Mother did not seem pleased when I spoke of writing you. Do YOU want me to write now that you have had time to think things over—or have you forgotten me? It has been a month, four long weeks, and you have so much in your life, so many friends. I scarcely dare hope you will take time for me, to write to me. Yet I am hoping to hear from you; and shall go on hoping until a letter comes—no matter how long I have to wait.

"Please remember me to your Father. I enjoyed my talk with him so much. I think you are like him. I could pay you no higher compliment. Please give my regards to your Mother also. I have wished she liked me better. But some day perhaps I may meet her again, and leave a different impression.

"My horse and dog welcomed me upon my return. The old Mexican woman who cooks for me told me the dog had grieved while I was away. It is something to have even a dumb beast love you enough to miss you. I wonder, do you like animals? I forgot to ask. You will have to answer my letter so that I may know. You see, to me that is a very important question: Do you like animals?"

"With best wishes for your happiness I am,

"Sincerely,
Kenneth Lawrence."

"Here, Dad!" I handed him the letter.

"Really want me to see it, Zena?"

"Of course I do. It would be a pity if you didn't see the nice compliment he pays to you—although I suppose you'll say as he does, that I am the one to be complimented."

"My curiosity is excited. I guess I'll have to read it."

He read aloud in silence until he came to the paragraph where Kenneth said I was like him, and that he could pay me no higher compliment.

"A fellow of rare discernment," Dad said, his eyes twinkling. "And a good deal of tact, also," he added. Then: "I like what he says about animals. I think you will have to write and tell him that you are fond of horses and dogs also. At least I judge you are by my bills at the riding academy, and for that last Pom you bought."

"So you think I should tell him quite soon that I like animals?"

"Oh, I wouldn't be in too much of a hurry. To-morrow or day after would do," he teased me.

"I'll show you my reply if you'll promise not to tell—anybody."

"Cross my heart, Zena. Make it brief. If you do he'll be more anxious for the next one," and kissing me fondly, Dad departed for the office, leaving me to reread my letter again before I joined Mother.

Tomorrow—Zena's Answer.
